REMEMBER WHEN

By Ron Underwood, CHSSA Historian and Hall of Fame member

Fifty-five years ago - State Tournament at UC Santa Barbara | Director: Dr Upton Palmer. Anticipating tabroom problems, Dr. Palmer told all coaches that there would be "absolute secrecy" in the tabroom. "Every chairman should be free from annoying breath on their respective necks."

Forty-five years ago - State tournament at UCLA | Director: Richard Gustafson. Sweepstakes: 1st Damien & 2nd La Mirada. OI was eliminated as a state event and it was replaced with Expository. College and community judges were paid $2 per round. $25 judging deposit for each school was initiated. CHSSA Hall of Famer Larry Smith remembers:

"I had what turns out to be the most difficult job at the tournament-assigning judges. The problem we faced that year was the headquarters and judges were located in the union, ten minutes away, up the hill. The tournament was running considerably behind time because of this "walk lag," and we were trying to get a round of debate started before 10PM. Not enough judges were present. I jumped into my station wagon, dashed to the Holiday Inn and took the elevator to the dining room. There I found a large contingent of coaches who were well into their dinner hour. I asked if anyone would like to go to a debate party. Receiving acceptance from a half dozen, I piled them into the wagon and made a dash back to the university. As I stuffed ballots into their hands I promised the party would start immediately after the round was over. There was some grumbling, but what the heck, they were there and it was a five mile walk back to the hotel...So they judged. I never knew how well the decisions were made, but the rounds did finish. And we did party afterwards."

Thirty-five years ago - State Tournament at Cal State San Diego | Director: Jim McDonnell. Sweepstakes: 1st West Bakersfield 2nd Kennedy Richmond. Ballot review was established. Traveling sweepstakes was eliminated

Twenty-five years ago - State Tournament at Ventura Community College | Director: Ron Underwood. Sweepstakes: 1st Bellarmine & 2nd West Bakersfield and Miramonte (tie). New Hall of Famers included: Ann Cierley, Jim Harville, Tom Montgomery, Ray Schaefer, and Sandy Oliveras. First time we had 18 semi-finalists for each event.

Fifteen years ago - State Tournament at Cal State San Bernardino | Director: Reed Niemi. Sweepstakes: 1st Bellarmine 2nd James Logan. Added "Ted Turner", soon to be "Controversy", soon to be Public Forum as a state event. Lifted ban on note taking by debate observers. Congresspersons could use visual-aides. (NOTE: THIS IS NO LONGER TRUE.)

.....And that's the way it was.....

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

BY CHSSA PRESIDENT REED NIEMI

It is with great pride and respect that I welcome all to the 61st CHSSA State Championship Tournament. Regardless of which event you qualified to State in this year, you are each helping to create an environment that is competitive, yet humane; critical, and most importantly, civilized. As the Superintendent of Schools in Broward County, Robert Runcie, stated, you “are the young people that are going to change the world for the better.” Your schools, teachers, coaches, parents, and peers ought to be proud of your qualification to this championship and the culture that you are helping create through this activity.

One of the pioneers of high school Parliamentary Debate, Kate Schuster, spoke of the value of forensics specifically when it comes to the creation of civil discourse, something we see little of in the daily news cycle. When the introduction of Parli was first being debated and discussed by CHSSA, the common argument from the opposition was that high school students would not be able to have a limited preparation debate event because they (you) lack the necessary requisite maturity. These arguments were ageist and derogatory. High school students were already demonstrating that very ability on the invitational circuit and were creating a new style of direct interaction in debate that benefits us all to this day. High school students proved, and continue to prove, CHSSA's perception of their inability wrong. Today, we celebrate your accomplishments in speech and debate, but we ought not lose vision of what you do every day with the abilities you demonstrate in competition and beyond.

As your peers across the country have shown the world, there is nothing that you cannot do. Always remember to listen, think, speak, educate, enlighten, and empower. That's what speech and debate, and CHSSA, is about.

Sincerely,

*The 2018 CHSSA Tournament Program is an annual publication of the CHSSA. Information is current as of the April 1st publication date. This year's program was designed and created by Vice President of Activities, Angelique Ronald, and was published by Roadrunner in San Ramon, CA. The program honors California State Speech Champions and competitors, as well as their leagues and coaches. JIM COSTA
16TH DISTRICT
CALIFORNIA

California High School Speech Association
Mountain House High School
1090 Central Pkwy
Mountain House, CA 95391

Dear Friends:

As the representative of the 16th Congressional District of California, I offer my congratulations to the students who have qualified to compete in the California High School Speech Association's (CHSSA) 2018 state tournament. The rigorous preparation, intellectual curiosity, and scholarly discipline it takes to come this far means that each one of you are already victorious in your own rite.

This year's competition at Mountain House High School in the San Joaquin Valley is a fitting place for such an occasion. The San Joaquin Valley's unique political dynamics often require elected officials, community organizers, and rank-and-file civic participants to engage in our democracy with bipartisan values in mind. This year's competitors are a testament to the opportunities which surface when we keep our minds open to the diverse viewpoints that arise in political discussions.

Lastly, I would like to extend my appreciation to the coaches and administrators who have found themselves at this year's tournament. Your efforts to make a more informed and engaged generation of students have and will continue to brighten the future of California, the United States, and the world abroad.

Sincerely,

JIM COSTA
Member of Congress

STUDENT OF THE YEAR

"WE ARE CAUGHT IN AN INESCAPABLE NETWORK OF MUTUALITY, tied in a single garment of destiny."

- Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Today, our students face unprecedented challenges that the world of speech and debate is uniquely suited to address. Our community is inspiring in its resolve, but that integrity, character, and service is not just limited to our educators or coaches. In a time characterized by political strife, cultural division, and a rapidly changing social landscape, it is increasingly important to celebrate the positive leaders and role models of tomorrow. At our 2018 State Championship Tournament, the California High School Speech Association is introducing a new way to honor those deserving students who have demonstrably gone above and beyond the competitive elements of this activity: the California High School Speech Association Student of the Year. Our Student of the Year Award honors individuals who set outstanding examples in terms of their leadership, dedication, creativity, and service, both in speech and debate-- and in their greater communities. The winner, announced at awards, will receive a $1,000 scholarship from CHSSA.

Beyond our six finalists, young people from every corner of every league in our state are fighting every day to make the world a better place for all of us.

We recognize and thank all of you.

It is an honor and a privilege to have the opportunity to introduce you to the finalists for the inaugural California High School Speech Association Student of the Year Award. May we all be inspired by their passion, wisdom, and resolve to stand up and serve, always with conviction and an eye toward justice.

Written by Angelique Ronald, Vice President of Activities

The Selection Process

Each school was allowed to nominate one student.

16 semifinalists were selected by the VP Activities, nominations were anonymized, and members of the CHSSA Executive Council ranked all semifinalists.

"Speech and debate means freedom. You can sing, dance, act, debate, write, draw, and so much more. There's something for everyone. You are never conformed into an identity you didn't choose for yourself. Being an immigrant, I battled with my identity for so long because of all the different personas I felt like I had to achieve. I had to be the culturally enriched African child, while simultaneously embracing the Black American identity. Speech and debate helped me realize that I have the freedom to love both worlds. I found the freedom to speak about the struggles of being a teenaged immigrant. I found the freedom to be a confident Black American woman whose voice was heard.

I found the freedom to be unapologetically me.

Bringing people together is a powerful necessity that leads to change and improvement, which is why speech and debate is a crucial puzzle piece of our communities. Forensics makes our communities whole. Through what we do, you meet a variety of people who you wouldn't have met otherwise. Because of speech and debate, I have witnessed football players and drama kids become friends; "jocks" and "nerds" clashing into one.

Speech and debate is a community in itself that creates an environment of inclusion, one that contributes to our adulthood by helping us become inclusive and kind within the world we are a part of. We must have the courage to put a spotlight on voices that are often silenced. In the end, success is measured by your bravery to conquer anything that challenges you."

SEBASTIAN CAZARES

"The ability to use my voice for positive change has had an immense impact on me. With family members who are Mexican immigrants and Puerto Ricans affected by the recent hurricane, current political injustices have been incredibly personal. Forensics has given me an outlet to advocate for a better society and helped me realize my dreams of being a civil rights lawyer and Congressman who serves the people in need across our country. It is rare for young people to have the opportunity to speak their minds without censorship, condemnation, or judgment. The lack of these opportunities make it that much more important to have forensics programs available to students to give them a platform to speak up for causes that are important.

Speech and debate students must be advocates because the incredible talents gained from these events shouldn't be used just for tournaments, but should be utilized to create a true impact in our world.

Injustices occur every day and the only way to combat them is to speak up and stand up for those who cannot. Thurgood Marshall once said, "Where you see wrong or inequality or injustice, speak out, because this is your country. This is your democracy. Make it. Protect it. Pass it on." If we don't use our speaking abilities to fight for a better nation, then who else will?"

"After working to advocate for prevention, awareness, and aide for relationship violence victims, I have personally witnessed that forensics students have a charisma that helps convey a message with a confidence that audiences recognize.

It is important for speech and debate students to be advocates, because we know how to truly engage audiences, ensuring that important messages are conveyed in the most impactful manner. Growing up, I had very few "creative" talents. I could not draw a stick figure, write poems, think of innovative science experiments, etc., so I always felt like I was just a person who lacked the spark to create. After joining Forensics,

I was able to discover and use my own creative talents. Speech and Debate helps develop the important skill of confident articulation, creative argumentation, and encourages all of us to become informed on world issues. Spending hours on each speech, finding new methods to connect with a wider audience, creating intriguing introductions, and combining heartfelt with humor, was what made me feel original. Forming these ideas helps students develop vital critical thinking skills.

The way to truly measure your success in life is whether or not your actions create a positive effect on the people around you."

"The skills we learn in speech and debate are not neutral skills to be kept in the back of our minds as we pursue our future careers. Rather, we should use those skills to become civic minded citizens, even if many of us don't become senators or congressmen (although many debaters do become those roles).

We should go to local city councils, stand up, and talk some real talk about issues that affect our communities. We should be leaders, organizing marches and giving speeches.

Speech and debate is important to our communities because it helps us become better advocates, increase our critical thinking skills, and increase our confidence in public speaking.

I measure success by the internal rounds won in my mind, the slight alterations in my neural networks after every round, how every card I cut and article I read makes me more knowledgeable about the world. That debate is education for the sheer sake of education. The reason we stay up late preparing for tournaments is not out of some desire to increase our grades or boost our SAT scores. All of our knowledge is simply that: pure knowledge. Learning for the sake of learning.

Debate sparked in me an intellectual curiosity that I have not experienced in any other activity."

"In a world drowning in fake news, speech and debaters have the opportunity and obligation to change the course of our culture."

The more educated the populace, the more advanced the society. This activity, at its core, is about education. Whether that means educating yourself on the Syrian civil war, or reading up on Don Zolidis' new play, speech expands our minds and betters our communities. When speech and debate is introduced to an area, it produces students that hunger for action and knowledge. The nation is watching students like Jaclyn Corin, Julia Cordover, and David Hogg from Stoneman Douglas high school in Parkland, FL speak truth to power; naturally, they're all speech and debaters.

I measure success by the number of people whose worldviews I'm able to help shape. Humans are prone to fall victim to a variety of problematic psychological phenomena, so we tend to double down on our opinions and stay stuck in bubbles instead of being open to change. Speech and debate gives me the opportunity to pop these bubbles multiple times each weekend. Every time I'm able to help teach a stranger something new through speech--and every time I'm personally able to experience meaningful learning--I feel successful. Between spontaneous speaking, debate, interpretation, and public address events,

Forensics offers a whole toolbox full of options to improve our collective understanding of policymaking, advocacy, and interpersonal connectedness."

"For me, Speech & Debate started as a competition and then became a community. At first, winning was everything. Then it wasn't, because I met extraordinary people who have gone on to organize gun control protests and policies. I met extraordinary people who have overcome blatant sexism or racism and were brave enough to unapologetically declare the debate space as their home.

Speech & Debate is friendship, advocacy, competition, and above all, love. It's a community that gives credence to a hope for a better future created by my generation."

In forensics, we find the merits of plans and methodologies. Then, we do something about it. We focus on how activism affects our actions, instead of blindly focusing on an endpoint.

Speech & Debate is never, and should never, be speaking for the voiceless, it should be giving them back their voice. The community and events created give space for marginalized groups to learn the skills they need and to fine tune their advocacies and policy proposals. And it's not just marginalized groups, speech & debate is adaptable and that's why it's a home for everyone. Speech & Debate is important to the community because we need somewhere where everyone can feel safe to grow into the changemaker they have the potential to become.

Those who are quiet can learn to yell and those who are loud can yell even louder."

IN MEMORIAM

Anyone who knew Charles Philip Ballingall will tell you that he was an exceptional human being. Chuck, or Mr. Ballingall as we knew him, fully lived E.E. Cumming's observation that the most wasted of all days was one without laughter.

For 25 years, Chuck served as a member of the CHSSA Executive Council, where he worked to foster an equal playing field in speech and debate for all students. This belief in fairness wasn't just talk: summers were spent creating evidence packets that were distributed statewide, free of charge, to any team who wanted or needed them. Chuck was also instrumental in the addition of Public Forum and Parliamentary debates to CHSSA in 2002, creating even more opportunities for debaters around California to do what they love. Always there to advocate for doing what is right for our students, Chuck spent two decades working to pass legislation to do just that.

As a Director, Chuck's stature in debate was legendary. He was a great college debater and was proud to be the 8th speaker at the NDT debating for the University of Redlands. He was hired as a teacher and Director of Forensics at Damien High School in August of 1982. Damien High School's long history of success in debate is due in no small part to the work of Chuck Ballingall, however, Chuck's benchmark for success was the long-term achievements of his students, not trophies. He would often tell stories of what his former students were doing, keeping in touch with many of them for years. His legacy of mentorship includes federal judges, business icons, legal scholars, people who make a difference for the less fortunate, and good fathers. As a teacher and coach, he made the world a better place.

Yet, there was always humor. Notoriously, Chuck could make a single wry comment that could both calm down a very tense coaches' meeting and leave everyone laughing to the point of forgetting the cause of tension. It is that approach that made Chuck a meaningful mentor for countless coaches, too. Always patient and willing to make time for questions, many relied on Chuck's sage advice on everything from team building activities to the best squad fundraisers.

Chuck was known for both his wizardry and speed in pairing rounds at prestigious tournaments around the country. Whether at CHSSA State or NSDA (NFL) Nationals, he had a way of making things feel calm and controlled. Above all, Mr. Ballingall taught kindness and this was a lesson he brought with him to tab. Chuck would treat everyone who walked into the tabroom with kindness and respect, but he would also be encouraging, complementary, and genuinely interested in every single person who crossed his path.

While Chuck loved his family dearly, separated by a continent, he only saw them on his annual trip to New Jersey. On the day to day, Chuck's immediate family was Damien and his extended family was the forensics community. Chuck also loved athletics and was known for 35 years at Damien as the "Voice of the Spartans". Chuck enjoyed sports announcing more than anything and was particularly proud of his announcing jobs for the CIF, the Clippers, the Dodgers, and the Quakes, where his distinctive baritone would fill a stadium through the loudspeakers.

Jack Lemmon noted that "Death ends a life, not a relationship". Remembering Chuck's impact helps reaffirm our relationship with him and his relationship to our community. If I had been asked a year ago if Chuck had any children, I would have said "no." Today, I know the truth: he had hundreds, if not thousands. I am fortunate and humbled to be able to consider myself one of them.

Dr. Minh A. Luong passed away in October 2017, after a brave fight against heart failure and complications from a stroke. He made a meaningful impact on the world of speech and debate, including many years of service to CHSSA and the NSDA. Dr. Luong was a highly successful speech successful debate summer program which was transformed, under his stewardship, into one of the top youth leadership programs in the nation. He also taught dozens of not-for-profit weekend workshops all across the western United States, targeting areas where experienced coaches were rare, as one of his many service projects. In recognition of his many years of service to the forensics community, Dr. Luong was selected to the National Tournament of Champions Hall of Fame. An article by Dr. Luong, "Forensics and College Admissions," continues to be cited being highly influential in the ongoing discussion about the impact of speech and debate on high school students.

and debate competitor at Fremont High School (CA) in the early 1980s, where he was coached by CHSSA legend Carmendale Fernandes. In college he won a national title for UC-Berkeley in Lincoln-Douglas Debate. Later, he would go on to serve as Director of the UC-Berkeley debate program, facilitating the growth of the nationally prominent high school invitational tournament. Dr. Luong also served as a Debate Coach at San Francisco State University, where, while earning a graduate degree, he coached a collegiate national champion.

As a high school coach, Dr. Luong's career included considerable successes at institutions including the Pinewood School in Los Altos Hills, CA. For over a decade he taught numerous summer debate programs for high school students, including stints as the Director of the Lincoln Douglas debate program at the Stanford, UC-Berkeley, and National Debate Forum institutes. Dr. Luong was the also the founder of the Ivy Scholars Program, a highly Beyond the world of forensics, Dr. Luong left behind a tremendous legacy, mentoring many hundreds of young leaders from all corners of the world. After working as a top-shelf management consultant, Dr. Luong taught for many years at Yale University, where he served as the Assistant Director of International Security Studies and Associate Director of the Brady-Johnson Institute for Grand Strategy. He also lectured at Brown University, where he taught one of the most popular courses on the campus, "Great Powers and Empires." Dr. Luong also did considerable consulting on national security issues and international affairs, working on behalf of the U.S. Department of Defense and as a diplomat trainer for the United Nations. He leaves behind two twin children – his son Alex and daughter Arista, as well as his ex-wife Pauline Jones-Luong and partner Anni West LaPrise.

Carlsbad High School Speech & Debate 2018 State Qualifiers!

Scholarships

Since the 1990 California State Speech Tournament, the California High School Speech Association (CHSSA) has contributed over $85,000 in scholarship aid to state champions in every event at the state tournament. The scholarship awards were begun through the generosity of many coaches who contributed money to establish a trust fund. Since that time $150-$500 for each winner in each event was placed into the scholarship fund from state tournament entry fees.

Many students have been repeat state champions over a span of several years and have received multiple awards. There are several three-time champions who received three awards for their outstanding effort and consistency. In past years, checks were sent directly to the financial aid office of the university where the student was accepted. Beginning with state 2015, however, checks for $250 per champion are paid directly to the student.

Beginning at state 2016, an annual $1000 scholarship is awarded each year to the "Most Inspirational Speaker" in Impromptu. The recipient is selected by a vote of the Impromptu finalists at the conclusion of the final round. The scholarship is funded by an annual $500 anonymous donation that is matched by CHSSA in honor of CHSSA Hall of Fame coach Lynette Williamson.

Beginning at state 2016, an annual $1000 scholarship is awarded to the Student of the Year. The scholarship is funded by CHSSA.

Anyone may donate funds to the CHSSA Scholarship fund. CHSSA is a non-profit 5013C, educational organization, and all donations are charitable tax deductions. All donations should be sent to the CHSSA treasurer, Neil Barembaum, School of Social Justice at Miguel Contreras: 322 S. Lucas Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90017. Contact information for donations may be obtained by emailing Treasurer@CHSSA.org.

KARSON KALASHIAN

2018 Donovan Cummings
Service-Above-Self Winner

In the Southern Valley Forensics League, we have a phrase that gets deployed with precise regularity in our tabrooms throughout the year: ‘Karsoning.’

A verb of unidentified origin, to Karson is to care about all things forensics, no matter how minute, to an obsessively passionate degree. Are you standing over round 3 policy results (even when you have no entries in policy), mulling and inferring who will hit in the next few rounds? That’s Karsoning. Are you sitting in tab, multiple sheets of paper splayed out in front of you, drawing up a multi-year plan for league and team growth? You’re Karsoning. Do you ever find yourself sitting with your fellow forensics fanatics, reminiscing about notable rounds of yore, reliving those great moments and figuring out how you can make sure future students have the same opportunities and experiences? You, my friend, are Karsoning. While this neologism may initially seem critical, it was actually born entirely out of love and respect for one of the most caring and generous advocates for this activity we know: Karson Kalashian.

To serve beyond ourselves is something many strive to do, but that kind of service is the epitome of who Karson is. While one could outline all of Karson’s coaching successes (of which there are many), what truly defines Karson Kalashian is his character and drive to constantly serve our most marginalized populations. At his core, Karson believes that forensics matters and it absolutely should be accessible to every student in California, regardless of their background or circumstances. And for him, it’s not just talk. Throughout his entire career, Karson has worked tirelessly to build large, successful, and incredibly inclusive programs at schools with high migrant, high poverty populations. Literally thousands of young people from the southern Central Valley have had the chance to travel and go to the world’s best colleges directly because of the guidance, mentorship, and opportunities that Karson worked unrelentingly to provide.

This fundamental dedication to providing a platform for those whose voices deserve elevation is not just limited to Karson’s work as a coach. For almost a decade, Karson has tirelessly advocated on the California State Speech Council for equality in opportunity for all students across our state.

His belief that the California High School Speech Association is an equalizer for all students, regardless of their backgrounds, is mirrored in every comment he makes and every piece of legislation he crafts. Always there to volunteer to put in the work necessary to make opportunity a reality, Karson has been a defining voice and advocate through his service to all of us in the speech and debate community.

One thing I have always deeply admired about Karson is the acceptance and respect he shows everyone he encounters, regardless of what differences or unique challenges they face. Karson’s message is clear: we each have our burdens, but speech and debate is the path through which our voices can achieve true empowerment. That message is one that is deeply personal for Karson because of his own background, where speech and debate gave him his voice, so that philosophy is no small part of what guides him in how he approaches every aspect of this activity to this day.

Guided by optimism, dedication, and a fundamental belief in the goodness and importance of forensics, we all should hope to be a little more like Karson.

I know I do.
